FORD'S PEACE TRIP

The Significance of It Is Now Seen—

Output of Buzz Wagons Will Be Tripled.

Plans for doubling the size of the plant of the Ford Motor Company were announced Monday. Work will start within 30 days.

The cost of the enlargement of the plant will be more than $2,000,000. This will be exclusive of the price of the 65-acre site purchased recently. Mr. Klinger-Smith did not tell what was paid for the land. The output, according to Mr. Klinger-Smith, will be tripled, and in five years the company will employ 75,000 to 100,000 men.

"BY FAITH MARCONI"

Paul's Letter To the Hebrews Extended Into Modern Times.

(From the Youth's Companion)

"The trouble is," said Harold Raymond, on his return from his second year in college, "that when you enter the sphere of religion, you deal with something quite different from anything that you meet in science. In the one you move step by step along lines of induction or deduction, and in the other you fling a highway through the air, in a bold and beautiful manner, but in a way quite different from that of science."

"I am not sure that the difference is so great as we are accustomed to suppose," replied his friend. "I have been thinking how recent faith is, or, rather, how large a part faith plays in science. No man ever made a great discovery that was wholly an accident. I have wondered how it would seem if we were to try to add some modern names of science to the great master roll of faith in the eleventh chapter of Hebrews."

"I should like to hear how it would sound."

"By faith Columbus, when he was called of God to discover a new world, went out, not knowing whether he would find it or not."

"By faith," Copernicus lifted the earth from its solid base and set it moving in rhythmic order round the sun; and all the sun and sons of suns with him."

"By faith," the great master roll of faith in the eleventh chapter of Hebrews."

"By faith the men of science, who did not always call themselves men of faith, moved from experiment to hypothesis and from hypothesis to theory, and from theory to fact and from fact to sight. And all these were the children of faith."

"And what shall I more say?" For time was fast melting to tell of Stephen and Paul, and Morse and Bell and Edison and Lister; of Cyrus Field and Alexander Bell and Marconi and Wilbur Wright, who through faith made iron float, yoked chariots to the wheels of steam, caused the voice of man to be heard at a distance of a thousand miles, filled the air with voices audible to the ear but invisible to the mind of faith, and lifted the bodies and the minds of men out of the world, and set them sailing amid the clouds.

"And wherein have we learned from saints and apostles and the Lord of life, and have found sure footing for faith, let us not count it unreasonable that still we follow and live the life of faith."

RED CROSS SEALS

Nearly Half a Million Sold in Maine Since—Bangor Led All Other Cities.

Between 450,000 and 500,000 Red Cross seals were sold in the State of Maine during the Christmas season, stated Rev. A. J. Thorslett of the Maine Anti-Tuberculosis Association, with headquarters in Bangor, who has had charge of the work of distributing the seals. This represents a substantial gain over last year, when 312,000 seals were sold.

Bangor leads all places in the State in the number sold, over 100,000 having been disposed of in that city by friends of the Maine Anti-Tuberculosis Association, who have been most generous in their gifts of time and money to the work. In Lewiston 19,000 have been sold. While figures for Portland have not been entirely compiled, it is known that they will not come up to Bangor, as the sale there was by mail from Bangor office, and there were not 100,000 stamps sent to Portland.

Acroestock county district sold 53,200 stamps; Washington county, 50,000; and the Des Moines district, 49,000. The efforts of the State association are highly gratified with the showing as a whole.

The sale of half a million Red Cross seals means that $500,000 has been contributed to philanthropic work, divided as follows: From 75 to 87 1/2 per cent goes to local work according to the amount sold. Cities selling as many as Bangor has, over 100,000 get 87 1/2 per cent for anti-tuberculosis or dispensary purposes. The remainder goes to the State Association, except 10 per cent for the National Red Cross.

PORTLAND AUTO SHOW

Quarter of a Million Dollar Display.

On Monday, Feb. 21, when the doors of the mammoth new Exposition Building, at Portland, are thrown open, more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of pleasure cars and trucks will be on public exhibition. The two floors of this new building have been entirely contracted for. The first floor will be given over entirely to the display of pleasure cars, while in the basement trucks, motor cycles and accessories will be another complete show in itself.

The Portland Automobile Dealers Association have gained by past experience to know just what patrons of such exhibitions desire, and every whim of the motorist will be fulfilled. This year's attractions will far exceed anything ever before attempted in this State.

The decorative scheme for the first floor will be in green and white, and with its thousands of roses, electric lights, and southern snail it will be transformed into a real fairyland. In the center of the hall, a beautiful stand will be erected from which concerts will be rendered afternoons and evenings. The contract has just been closed with the Boston Ladies Orchestra of 20 pieces, which guarantees this feature of the exposition will be of the highest grade.

A great deal of interest is being shown throughout the entire State by dealers and motor enthusiasts, and in some of the cities parties are being formed to attend the show in a body. Arrangements have been made for special railroad rates to Portland during the show week, Feb. 21 to 25.

Not Likely.

"People that put on a whole lot of frills," said Uncle Elmer, "can't expect to have an unruffled temper."

WATER FRONT VANDALS

Citizen Objects To Their Making Scrap Heap or Dump of the Wharves and Adjoining Lots.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I would like to call your attention to the subject of "civic betterment," in which some of our leading citizens are devoting their thoughts at the present time.

Fully realizing that the efforts of these parties tend principally toward the mercantile development of our city, yet, would it not seem that something should be done to save our waterfront from becoming merely a "scrap heap," or a dump?

Should every wharf, or vacant lot near the shore, be at the mercy of the people who like to clean up their premises, and in doing this just transfer their old bottles, tin cans, and other rubbish to the property of their neighbor, it being too much trouble to go to the regular place assigned for the purpose, where the loose cans and offensive matter is supposed to be cared for by the city.

Often our summer visitors are seen to turn their footsteps from the regular streets, seemingly desirous of getting a little nearer to our once attractive seashore, only to retrace their steps with a look of disgust on their faces.

If we all took a certain amount of pride in our city's attractiveness, and had a greater degree of consideration for the feelings of our neighbor, it would somewhat assist in the improvement of a better class of citizens locating in our city, which eventually might be of mercantile value.

One Who Deplores.

CORRECTS HEN FIGURES

Those Burketville Biddies Were Given More Credit Than Deserved.

The January 11 issue of The Courier-Gazette carried this item from our correspondent: "Six Clarrys of Burketville have a flock of 90 hens which lay more than 2500 dozens of eggs the past year and ten months—a good record for an amateur."

The hen editor, who has become somewhat expert in the handling of egg statistics, shook his head skeptically, but he was reluctant to withhold a correspondent's statement, made in good faith, so the item was printed, with this warning amendment: "The Courier-Gazette will leave its readers to get out their pencils and figure this over."

This intimation was evidently obeyed, for the hen experts have had a good deal to say about the figures. Now comes again our Burketville contributor and says:

"Six Clarrys wishes to correct the statement concerning the number of eggs his 92 hens laid in 9 1/2 months, as he made a mistake and gave our correspondent the wrong figure. The correct number should be 324 dozens."

MRS. HIGGINSON'S POEM

Mary Thacher In Her Girlhood Days Lived In This City.

Speaking of verses written by Mrs. Thomas Wentworth Higginson and published in the New York Evening Post, a writer in the Boston Transcript says that they "are as beautiful as they are powerful; surely among the finest, noblest, most enduring poetry of the great war." Mrs. Higginson was Miss Mary Thacher of Rockland. This is her poem:

We are about to offer a scribble again to have some of the scribbles to The Courier-Gazette looked up. We cannot account for their getting lost so often.
Friends and neighbors to the number of 20 called on Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Overlock Tuesday evening and enjoyed a musical evening. Mr. Overlock and Leonard Fuller gave some selections on the violin and piano, which were followed by a treat of apples.

The Ladies Aid Society of the island served supper at Revere Hall, Saturday evening. Charles Collins held the lucky ticket, No. 13. The net proceeds were $16.20.

Height of Ocean Waves.
An authority says the height of the waves in a storm rarely exceeds twelve feet, and in very bad disturbances on the high sea they may reach a height of fifty feet. Their length is never over 600 feet. In the southern parts of the Pacific, waves 43 feet in height have been measured. In the southern parts of the Atlantic 29 feet, and in the Mediterranean 12 feet. At places where the waves strike at an angle, such as a lighthouse, their rise, of course, much higher—from 100 to 200 feet. On the open sea, however, they never rise over 50 feet.

Auntie Evidently Not a Venus.
A maiden lady told us her little nephew: "Now, Johnny, you go to bed early and always do so, and you'll be rosy cheeked and handsome when you grow up." Johnny thought over this a few minutes and then he observed: "Well, auntie, you must have sat up a good deal when you were young."

Aside From That She's All Right.
A negro woman employed by a family on Prospect avenue was explaining to a neighbor what a good job she has and sought to say something pleasant about her mistress. "She's the best natured lady in the world when she's well," the servant said, "but she's sick all the time."—Kansas City Star.

Substances Carried to the Ocean.
A cubic mile of river water weighs approximately 4,205,850,000 tons and carries in solution, on the average about 420,000 tons of foreign matter. In all, about 2,735,000,000 tons of solid substances are thus carried annually to the ocean.

Ancient Egyptians.
The ancient Egyptians were not negroes. That much is certain; but when it is asked: "Who were they?" a problem is raised that is hard to solve. Both on the anthropological and philological sides the subject is a knotty one.

Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine—Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

Pinkham remedies.

North Crandon, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had displacement and ulcers, and he would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. MAYNE ASSACI, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 609 Hume St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.
Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down, pain, backache and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it."—Mrs. B. M. Osgood, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

If you need special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Med. Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Fresh Water Above Salt.
Selawik is a curious lake near the coast of Alaska. Tides rise and fall in the lake by reason of an underground connection with the sea. At the bottom the water is quite salt, but at the top is a layer of perfectly fresh water.

Where This Country Leads.
The fishing industry of the United States is not nearly as great as some of the countries of Europe, but no country in the world has had the foresight to stock its inland waters as the United States has done.

Success is sweetest when it comes after long delayed and attained through manifold struggles and defeats.—A. Bronson Alcott.

Every Sunday

—in thousands of households, people overeat, and their stomachs and livers suffer for it the next day, and even the day following. Ordinarily a good, big dinner hurts no one when some work is done after it. But Sunday is rest-day, and the stomach doesn't get the help of the usual exercise, and sometimes it is given too much to do. In such cases, "L. F." Atwood's Medicine helps the digestion, acts on the bowels and carries off the bile before any harm is done. It is an old family remedy, perfectly safe even for the children, and a good medicine to keep in the house for sudden attacks of indigestion, biliousness and sick headache.

NEW SHIPPING BILL

Some of the Objectionable Features Said To Be Eliminated in the Administration's Present Measure.

Details of the administration ship bill to build a merchant marine and naval auxiliaries revised to command the votes of dissenting demands, were made public Sunday for the first time. It was introduced Monday in the House by Chairman Alexander of the merchant marine committee, who will lead the fight for its passage on the floor.

Public hearings, at which President Wilson and others will be asked to testify will begin in a few days. The striking differences between the new bill and the one which failed in the Senate last year are modifications of the government operation feature and broadening of the powers of the shipping board which it is proposed to create. Government operation, under the new bill would be entered upon only as a last resort if private capital failed to respond to the enterprise. The shipping board would be empowered to regulate all interstate and foreign commerce in American waters as the interstate commerce commission now regulates interstate railway traffic.

Every effort has been made to draw the bill so as to encourage American capital to help rebuild the merchant marine and to protect it from unfair foreign competition, and government vessels never would operate on lines where an American service was furnishing satisfactory service at fair rates. The out-and-out government ownership feature of the old bill aroused so much opposition that it was generally conceded to have been one of the primary causes for the failure of the measure.

An initial appropriation of $50,000 for the purchase of a few vessels to be obtained by the sale of Panama canal bonds and the appointment of the shipping board of five members are the first objects of the new bill. The secretary of the navy and the secretary of the commerce would be ex-officio members of the board and three members would be "men of large political experience." In foreign commerce they would be appointed by the President and receive $10,000 a year. A secretary would receive $5,000 a year and the remainder of the board employees, except an attorney, would come from the civil service lists of the federal government.

With the $50,000,000 the board would organize a corporation to lease, buy, charter or build ships. It would be restricted to the purchase of as many American-made vessels as possible. Ships constructed in foreign countries would be limited to foreign trade only. The board would offer stock to citizens of the United States and if all were subscribed, the board need never operate a ship. Failing to interest private capital, however, the board could operate vessels.

Both vessels controlled by the board and those which had passed into private hands by lease or charter would be subject at all times to the call of the President for use in war. Members of the crews and officers could volunteer at anytime for service in the navy auxiliary and would receive from $5 to $15 a month from the time of enlistment.

Liberal regulations for United States shippers and more rigid rules for foreign interests are contemplated by that part of the bill prescribing the powers of the shipping board. Here are some of the features of these clauses.

The shipping board and the interstate commerce commission, acting jointly, could permit railroads to make special rates for shipments in connection with steamships to encourage interior points to participate in the foreign trade.

All common carriers, foreign and domestic, operating in American waters, would be forced after Jan. 1, 1917, to obtain revocable licenses from the board.

No vessel registered or enrolled under the laws of the United States could be sold to a foreign country without permission from the board. Failure to observe that provision would subject the vessel to refusal of clearance papers and the owner to a charge of committing a misdemeanor. Vessels might be refused clearance only to other United States ports and with the board's approval.

The framers of the bill emphasize that one of its first purposes is to put government ships into traffic where private capital would not assume the risk or where there is imperative need of immediate transportation facilities before private capital could act.

The outlook for the passage of the bill in the Senate, where it was killed last year because of a party revolt by Senator Clarke, now is considered favorable. The President has had frequent conferences recently with Senators who opposed it and many changes were made at their suggestion.

WHEN MOTOR STOPPED

OWNER COULD NOT MAKE OUT WHAT CAUSED TROUBLE.

Possibly the Fact That His Friend Had Forgotten to Perform a Simple Operation Went Far to Explain Matters.

The machine shop of Frank Jodkins was damaged by fire Monday, Jan. 24. The fire was caused by the parking of a gasoline engine. The fire company was soon at hand and quickly subdued the flames which appeared at first to be a serious menace.

A grapple has been seen by someone here and many are suffering in consequence of it.

Mr. Mann, manager of the sardine factory here, received a cargo of brick last week.

January, here, on the whole has been a very mild and pleasant month: The average maximum temperature being 57, the highest 44; lowest, one day, zero; snow, about six inches and sleighing, two days only.

The home of Peter Gray was nearly destroyed by fire Saturday. It appears that Mr. Gray quit early in the morning built a fire and put some food to cooking for breakfast, and went to look after his boat, leaving a lighted lamp on the table. In his absence, the house by some means caught fire.

However, the man who owned the house, the alarm given and the neighbors quickly went to the rescue. The door being locked and hydrant frozen caused some delay, but they soon had the water on. The fire had gained so much headway that everything was destroyed but the walls of the building before it was subdued. An insurance for $1000 was on the building which will nearly cover the loss.

MOTHER! YOUR CHILD IS CROSS. PEVISH FROM CONSTIPATION

It Tongue Is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Clean Liver and Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhea, sure throat, fail of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they clearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" than say that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamlike sleep, irritability and unrest corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

Scott & Bower, Bloomfield, N. J.

HE MADE BEQUEST OF BRAIN

Man of Eminence Has the Idea of Advancing Scientific Study by the Action.

Announcement was made a short time ago that Dr. Leland O. Howard, chief of the United States bureau of entomology, had declared to the American Association for the Advancement of Science that he would bequeath his brain for scientific study to a school that specializes in neurology. A number of other scientists who attended the meeting expressed admiration for the doctor's action and are reported to be considering similar bequests of their own brains.

There was a British physician named Robert Peebles who created a sensation in London and Edinburgh several years ago by his insistent coaxing of athletes for the privilege of studying their bodies after death.

He had been experimenting with the muscles and had arrived at what his associates termed a fantastic notion that some sort of operation could be performed on the leg of the human runner so that his speed could be increased. Leapers and high jumpers were his hobby, and in the course of five years it was estimated that he had examined the leg muscles of nearly a thousand men, making comparisons with the running and leaping muscles of the frog, the deer, the greyhound and other animals.

Peebles was a man of means, and after he had succeeded in inducing half a dozen athletes of reputation to "limb" him their legs the attention of surgeons was attracted. They took the matter under consideration at one of their quarterly meetings and warned Peebles they would have him committed to a sanitarium if he continued his strange pursuit.

Peebles had no intention of being confined in the sanitarium. He had a commission appointed. While his sanity was being tested Peebles died. In his will he bequeathed his brain to the commission.

War Hits Rheumatism. Sodium salicylate, the friend of sufferers from rheumatism, is selling to-day at $2.40 a pound, while before the war it only cost 30 cents a pound, remarks the New York Times. Also, it is sold in this country only under the condition that none of it will be exported.

The reason for this, according to the head of one of the largest chemical concerns in the city, is not because there are more cases of rheumatism in the country today than ever before, but because sodium salicylate is made from carbolic acid heretofore imported from Europe. Now Europe needs all her carbolic acid to use in manufacturing explosives.

Graves of the Oil, Drug and Paint Reporter said: "Nearly all the highly developed coal tar derivatives in the United States have been used up. Picric acid, which is used in explosives, costs 100 over in Europe to what it would cost to manufacture here. In England they are too busy to manufacture it, so they have been buying from us in great quantities. We have been selling at the prices. Last year at this time carbolic acid cost seven cents a pound, now it has gone up to $1.50."

Gunmakers to the Kaiser. Ordinarily the Krupp manufacture railway equipment, motor cars and other steel products for purposes of peace, as well as guns. Now, however, the entire establishment is being devoted exclusively to the making of guns and war munitions. The immense furnaces are boiling tons of white-hot metal, and the stacks belching forth volumes of black smoke as the great army of gunmakers work in day and night shifts under tremendous pressure. Busy Berthas are being prolifically produced. Guns for naval and coast defense, for siege and fortress purposes, field and mountain guns, antiaircraft guns, guns of all kinds and calibers, with accessories and appointments, such as armored turrets, shields, observation stations, conning towers, armored casemates, disappearing carriages, hoisting and lifting apparatus for ammunition, great shells, torpedoes, shrapnel, case shot, all kinds of ammunition, armor plate and ordnance wagons, in fact, all the dread implements in the arsenal of war stream forth in steady shipments.—Review of Reviews.

Doubtful About It. Nath Taylor could neither read nor write, but he put one over on the city preacher that he engaged to marry him. Nath had for a long time contemplated marrying, but never had the nerve to inquire into the necessary legal formalities. A preacher from the city happened to be visiting on the farm where Nath was employed. When Nath learned of the presence of the preacher in the house he decided to go up and inquire just what had to be done. When Nath reached the front steps his courage left him, and there Mr. Smith, his employer, found him. Nath explained his mission and the preacher was called to enlighten him.

"And so you wish to get married, my man?" the preacher nodded encouragingly to Nath, whose courage was fast slipping away.

"Well, I think I will try it a while," Nath replied. "How much does it cost?"

Reversing Conditions. Mrs. Flatbush—How that boy of yours is growing! I believe he is taller than his father.

Mrs. Bensonbush—Yes, he is. You see we are now cutting down the boy's clothes for his father.

Could Not Redeem Its Notes. If every note issued by the Bank of England were presented at the bank there would not be enough gold to bring them in.

Pyrenees Tunnels. Five tunnels through the Pyrenees are to make communication easier between France and Spain. The work on these tunnels is progressing rapidly in spite of the war. Spanish workmen have taken the place of the Frenchmen who have joined the army. The tunnels will be operated by electricity and June, 1916, may see them running.

Decidedly Disingenuous. Hamilton Fish, Jr., who worked to defeat the new canneries bill, said to an Albany reporter:

"They wanted us to let women and children work more than twelve hours a day. They said this would be for the public good—it would save a lot of fruit and vegetables from rotting. But such a plea is disingenuous."

Such a plea reminds me of the canner's little son, who entered the village tailor shop and said:

"Mr. Snp, will you please let father have some patterns of good, strong cloth?"

"Why, certainly, my boy," said Mr. Snp, with a beaming smile. "What does father want them for—suits, trousers, overcoat, or—"

"I think," said the boy, "he wants 'em to nail up his pea vines."

War Hits Rheumatism. Sodium salicylate, the friend of sufferers from rheumatism, is selling to-day at $2.40 a pound, while before the war it only cost 30 cents a pound, remarks the New York Times. Also, it is sold in this country only under the condition that none of it will be exported.

The reason for this, according to the head of one of the largest chemical concerns in the city, is not because there are more cases of rheumatism in the country today than ever before, but because sodium salicylate is made from carbolic acid heretofore imported from Europe. Now Europe needs all her carbolic acid to use in manufacturing explosives.

Graves of the Oil, Drug and Paint Reporter said: "Nearly all the highly developed coal tar derivatives in the United States have been used up. Picric acid, which is used in explosives, costs 100 over in Europe to what it would cost to manufacture here. In England they are too busy to manufacture it, so they have been buying from us in great quantities. We have been selling at the prices. Last year at this time carbolic acid cost seven cents a pound, now it has gone up to $1.50."

Gunmakers to the Kaiser. Ordinarily the Krupp manufacture railway equipment, motor cars and other steel products for purposes of peace, as well as guns. Now, however, the entire establishment is being devoted exclusively to the making of guns and war munitions. The immense furnaces are boiling tons of white-hot metal, and the stacks belching forth volumes of black smoke as the great army of gunmakers work in day and night shifts under tremendous pressure. Busy Berthas are being prolifically produced. Guns for naval and coast defense, for siege and fortress purposes, field and mountain guns, antiaircraft guns, guns of all kinds and calibers, with accessories and appointments, such as armored turrets, shields, observation stations, conning towers, armored casemates, disappearing carriages, hoisting and lifting apparatus for ammunition, great shells, torpedoes, shrapnel, case shot, all kinds of ammunition, armor plate and ordnance wagons, in fact, all the dread implements in the arsenal of war stream forth in steady shipments.—Review of Reviews.

Doubtful About It. Nath Taylor could neither read nor write, but he put one over on the city preacher that he engaged to marry him. Nath had for a long time contemplated marrying, but never had the nerve to inquire into the necessary legal formalities. A preacher from the city happened to be visiting on the farm where Nath was employed. When Nath learned of the presence of the preacher in the house he decided to go up and

Around Uncle Sam's Domain

Series of Letters Describing the Six Weeks' Transcontinental Journey of a Rockland Attorney.

(Thirteenth Letter)
Our path now lay due north through the wealthy city of Colorado Springs, from which we enjoyed a fine view of Pike's Peak. A momentary stop at Manitou, the Stratosphere of the Rockies, at the entrance of the Garden of the Gods, and we were hurrying on through Arapahoe county, with Denver our objective point—frequently in view. At dusk we took into the massive new Union Station and walk beneath its noted "Welcome Gate" just as the streets are flooded with light and the people of the "Mile High" city turn night into day along their numerous great white ways. We had supposed we had witnessed all that was possible in street illumination, but Denver sets a standard distinctly her own and some of her broad avenues at night actually challenge old Sol himself with their dazzling brilliance.

Travel weary, we were glad to postpone sightseeing until the morning, and a beautiful Sabbath day found us strolling through the wide, level streets of this "Queen City of the Plains." As in all other western towns, Sunday is a holiday. Many of the shops and apparently all places of amusement were wide open and in the early morning crowds of people were seeking the various parks, trolley trips and the streets, quite in contrast to the deserted thoroughfares of our New England cities on the first day of the week.

Sunshine Guaranteed
Denver is situated close to the eastern foothills of the Rockies and is a delightful convention, tourist and health center. Its high altitude furnishes an atmosphere recommended for invalids, while 320 clear, sunny days are guaranteed each year. Its State Capitol is conspicuously located in the civic center and to this objective point we tremped. The structure is magnificent one, constructed of Colorado granite on the exterior and finished internally with onyx and bronze from the same commonwealth. Its massive dome is gilded, and artistically lighted at night. The total cost amounted to $2,800,000, exclusive of the grounds, which themselves cover three blocks. From the steps of the building a wonderful view is obtained of the Snowy Range Mountains for a distance of 200 miles north and south.

At present the basement of the capitol is used to house a magnificent collection of mineral specimens from Colorado's mines, an extensive assortment of anthropological objects of the ancient Cliff Dwellers, a war relic museum and specimens of horticultural products of the State. Across the street from the capitol a new State museum is being erected, to which these exhibits will eventually be transferred.
A short distance from the capitol grounds is the United States Mint, opened in 1905—Uncle Sam's most recent addition to his cash factories—while the Court House and City Hall are within easy walk. Judge Ben Lindsey's famous juvenile court was without its noted head at the table, he being absent with the Ford Peace Expedition, consequently I was deprived the pleasure of visiting what must have proven another interesting legal forum.

Miles of Palatial Homes
At this point we fell back upon our old friend the sightseeing bus, which, if one is at all pressed for time, is a very satisfactory method of visiting the outdoor attractions in any of the large cities. We spent a most interesting hour in the residential district alone and for mile upon mile passed palatial homes, which Denver claims are not surpassed in the country. Indeed, I might note the fact that this particular city is entirely without frame buildings of any kind; its ordinances having for years prohibited their erection. We also devoted a reasonable amount of time to a ride through the extensive city park, with its 320 acres of matchless attractions. It contains two lakes, which I assume are artificial, an extensive point we tremped. The structure is magnificent one, constructed of Colorado granite on the exterior and finished internally with onyx and bronze from the same commonwealth. Its massive dome is gilded, and artistically lighted at night. The total cost amounted to $2,800,000, exclusive of the grounds, which themselves cover three blocks. From the steps of the building a wonderful view is obtained of the Snowy Range Mountain. Our auto trip continued on through the business section and eventually returned us to Hotel Albany, where we finally gathered our belongings for the long trip to Maine. The next two days passed quickly as we sped along the Platte River in Nebraska and across the corn section of Iowa. Ten hours in Chicago and a memorable daylight ride through the Weiland

Canal section of Ontario, with a brief stop at Hamilton and an opportunity of seeing some of the Canadian war preparations and we were at Niagara Falls.

In Retrospect
Two days later I was back at my desk, the journey ended, and a rich experience recorded on memory's page. And after all, this is undoubtedly the choicest and most enduring souvenir of such an outing: the one incapable of purchase, barter or theft, and which time renders the more interesting and valuable. When the raging storms of winter beat upon the window, and snowy mantles cover all without, what a delight to refer to this page of memory, as with lights subdued, one gazes upon the pining embers of the open fire and sees in retrospect the fascinating panorama of his travels, there painted by an invisible hand, in tints and hues from the dye-pots of a sunset, and in fancy, at least, plans and dreams of other journeys which may excel in grandeur those already experienced.

And aside from this is the hope that friends may derive some pleasure from the story one brings home. So it is in my own case, at least, and in writing these several travel letters I have endeavored to add bits of local color and avoid the style which characterizes the professional travelogue. If I have succeeded in affording a pleasant hour to some reader who is, for any reason, unable to duplicate my journey it will be a sufficient return for the time expended in preparing the articles. Charles T. Smalley.

FREE BOOK, FREE SAMPLE

Almost everybody uses a laxative at one time or another. Therefore it is mutually advantageous that everyone should have a chance to try Pinkettes, the little pink granules that gently assist nature and nothing more. They do not gripe nor cause a reaction. It is important that everybody should know how to treat constipation correctly and intelligently. Therefore if you will write a request today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., a copy of the book, "Constipation, Its Causes and Treatment," and a sample of Pinkettes will be mailed to you at once. Pinkettes successfully replace oil, salts and other harsh purgatives. They do not conflict with any other medicine. The use of Pinkettes until regular habits are established will correct constipation.

CRESCENT BEACH COLONY

Has Its Annual Reunion In Cafe Bova, Proprietor of Which Is Now "One of the Crowd."

The Crescent Beachites gathered once more Jan. 28, at the ever popular Bova's Cafe in Boston. Mr. Bova has owned the colony (which grows each year) and having a personal interest, certainly gave a very fine dinner to the party. The banquet room was very attractively decorated with hanging baskets of flowers and many centerpieces adorned the long table. The menu (in the shape of an owl) told of the very excellent things to eat and that were so finely served. It read thus:

Grape Fruit—"Beachites"
Radishes Celery Olives
Baked Live Lobster—"A Hix"
Sardines Chips
Sliced Potatoes—"A Hix"
Spaghetti—"Kings"
Roast Capon—"Rocktonian"
Country Club Ice Cream
Fruit Cakes

A few of the regulars were absent on account of illness and were greatly missed, but the dinner was very social, and although there were no speeches this year all enjoyed themselves in the same old manner. A telegram signed "Mrs. Ava Lawry, Fred and Mary Smith" was read by Mrs. Joshua Thorndike and proved very interesting. Many thanks to the sponsors. To Mrs. Thorndike (Maud Sweetland) we give the credit of managing these dinners. The social hour after the banquet was devoted to renewing of summer acquaintances, and a dancing with music by Mrs. Vira Gillette Weston. It was a very pleasant reunion and also one of the finest dinners Mr. Bova has served to the Beachites.

Next came the singing by Mrs. Joshua Thorndike, Mr. and Mrs. Ivin Hix, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Piper, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fales, E. L. Brown, Rockland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marston, Mr. and Mrs. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gillette, Mrs. Daniel Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheaton, Mrs. Leo E. Bova, Master Leo Bova, Mrs. Louis Kilecki, Frederick Kilecki, Miss Maker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paul, Miss Grace Crockett, Ed. Dingley, Warren Hill, Miss Edith Clark, Miss Mildred Gillette.

TEN NEW CONVICTS

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive processes, and remains there because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to carry it off.
Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and through the blood on the liver, kidneys and skin, which it stimulates, and at the same time it improves the digestion.
Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

Record Run In New York City of This Remarkable Photo-Play.
New York, Feb. 4.—Griffith's wonder spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," has closed at the Liberty Theatre the most remarkable run ever known in the history of the American drama and which also sets a new high record for long runs in New York City. The great production was presented in New York for 804 consecutive performances to a gross attendance of $72,000 people. James Metcalfe, the master critic of life, estimates from these figures that one in every four of the available theatre-goers of the Metropolis saw Griffith's masterpiece before its New York run ended.

The former record of the New York stage was set by Hays' "A Trip to Chinatown," which ended a run of 650 performances in August, 1893. Prior to that Henry E. Duxey in "Adonis" held the record for 534 performances. The nearest modern approach to this was the record of Laurette Taylor in "Peg of My Heart," who ran for 604 performances in 1912-13.

The prices for the Griffith spectacle, which was the first combination of the photo-drama and musical spectacle ever given to the world, ranged from 25 cents to $2. The average paid attendance was about 78 cents per capita, making a total gross receipts for the New York run of over $600,000. This is the greatest take for this space of time ever known by any theatrical offering in the world as these figures have been amplified by record breaking runs simultaneously in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Atlantic City. About this time and since, 12 companies have been touring the central and eastern states under the Griffith direction to enormous business, and gross weekly receipts exceeding $125,000. In addition the spectacle has a run of 22 weeks in Los Angeles and 17 weeks in San Francisco to its credit and has turned its profits in a record time.

There has been a great deal of misrepresentation regarding this stirring attraction which has been spread abroad by the society of the organized opposition in this city. The truth is "The Birth of a Nation" has never been interfered with in any city where it has been presented for a single day. It has caused no prejudice or trouble anywhere with the exception of a single demonstration in Boston stirred up by the same negro, one Trotter, who was ordered out of the White House for insulting the President of the United States, and in Philadelphia where a cheap political disturbance that lasted a few minutes was made just before election time by a colored crowd that was supporting a candidate for the mayoralty. This candidate was beaten at the polls by over 90,000 votes.

"The Birth of a Nation" has passed every recognized censor board and judicial channel except one. This applies to the Ohio Board of Censors, which passed judgment on the production without letting the people see it. That matter will likely be adjusted in the courts.

"The Birth of a Nation" has been proclaimed by the press of America as the greatest drama that has ever been unveiled before the world. It is an epic of the travail through which America passed before the slavery question and the right of secession was fought out and the adjustment of which brought the United States to a powerful union of the mightiest nation on the face of the globe. It is founded upon history, but treated in the broad sweep of dramatic pictorialization and is handled by the master mind of a new form of dramatic art. Its record is the surest proof of its wide appeal and its theatrical power.

TWILL NOT BE FARRAR

Director Chapman Denies That She Will Be Star of Next Festival.

Director Chapman of the Maine Music Festival conducted a rehearsal of the Bangor chorus Monday night. "Mr. Chapman has been in the hospital since he was last here," says the News. "He had an attack of appendicitis, and some of the doctors wanted to operate. But they don't operate in leading New York hospitals now except in extreme cases; and so Mr. Chapman was merely put under the X-ray and given treatment, including a much needed rest, that made him 30 years younger. He has been feeling fine ever since, and says he may decide to have appendicitis again. Last night he told of his hospital experience in his own clever and humorous style, his hearers being very much amused."
